FORECLOSURE

Rights of Redemption On “Homestead” Property

A 2016 mortgage on homestead property is foreclosed. Actual notice of the foreclosure is sent via certified mail to the homeowner on August 3, 2017 prior to the foreclosure sale which took place on August 31, 2017. You are asked to insure a new transaction post-foreclosure in March of 2018.

Should an exception for rights of redemption appear in your title commitment and title policies? If so, at what point in time would it be safe to remove this exception from your title policies or to insure a future transaction without an exception for rights of redemption?

Right of Redemption on All Properties except for Homestead Property Subject to Section 6-5-248 (h) of the Code of Alabama

Foreclosure of a mortgage on all properties except for homestead property subject to the above referenced code section gives rise to a one (1) year statutory right of redemption.

Right of Redemption on “Homestead Property”

January 1, 2016 through February 21, 2018

Act No. 2015-79 became effective on January 1, 2016, and applies to foreclosure sales of homestead property, as defined in the Act, made pursuant to mortgages dated on or after January 1, 2016. The Act amends Sections 6-5-248, 6-5-252 and 8-1-172, and shortens the redemption period on residential properties on which a homestead exemption was claimed in the tax year during which the foreclosure sale occurred from 1 year to 180 days from the date of foreclosure, if notice as required by the Act is provided. The redemption period for all other properties remains 1 year.

ALABAMA UNDERWRITING PRACTICES MANUAL (con't.)

ARTICLE III – UNDERWRITING TOPICS - FORECLOSURE

As to such homestead property, actual notice to the mortgagor is now required and additional language must be added to the notice by publication already required under other statutes. Notice of the right of redemption and other rights in the substance as set out in the Act must now be mailed to the mortgagor(s) at the address of the property to be foreclosed at least 30 days prior to the foreclosure by certified mail with proof of mailing, AND the required wording must be included in the published notice required under § 35-10-13, Code of Alabama, 1975. Failure to give the notices required under the Act, or a defective notice, does not affect the validity of the foreclosure, including the transfer of title to the property. Furthermore, there is a two year time period after the date of the foreclosure to bring an action related to the notice requirements, or the action is barred. Nevertheless, fulfillment of the notice requirements of the Act is critical. The reduced period to redeem of 180 days does not begin to run until these newly required notices are given, and failure to provide the required notices could extend the period to redeem to up to two years, or beyond two years under certain circumstances.

ARTICLE III – UNDERWRITING TOPICS - FORECLOSURE

On and after February 22, 2018

Act No. 2018-126 became effective on February 22, 2018 and was enacted to amend Section 6-5-248, Code of Alabama 1975 relating to the right of redemption on residential property to provide as follows:

- Provides that under no circumstances may a right of redemption be exercised later than one year after the date of foreclosure;
- Possession or production of the proof of mailing of required notice shall constitute an affirmative defense to any action related to the notice requirement; and
- All actions related to the notice requirements must be brought within one (1) year after the date of foreclosure or the action shall be barred.

ARTICLE III – UNDERWRITING TOPICS - FORECLOSURE

When dealing with foreclosed homestead property subject to this Act, prior to underwriting as if the redemption period is 180 days from the date of foreclosure:

1. Verify that the foreclosed mortgage is dated on or after January 1, 2016;
2. Verify that the foreclosed property was assessed as homestead property during the tax year in which the foreclosure occurred; and
3. Require satisfactory proof that notice in substance as set out in the Act was mailed to the mortgagor(s) at least 30 days prior to foreclosure at the property address of the foreclosed property by certified mail with proof of mailing, and that the required language was included in the publication of notice required under § 35-10-13, Code of Alabama, 1975.

You have been asked to insure a deed from an Alabama
Series LLC to a Purchaser.

What should you do first?

SERIES LLC'S

IN GENERAL

Set forth below is a portion of ORT's internal bulletin on Series LLC's: A Series LLC is a unique form of LLC which, when legally formed, allows a master limited liability company to provide for segregation of its assets and liabilities into one or more "series", all operating under the umbrella of a master limited liability company. Series LLCs are created by statute and, without sufficient enabling legislation, cannot hold an interest in real property. Only natural persons and those business entities with explicit statutory authority may hold title to real property.

SERIES LLC'S

IN GENERAL (con't.)

A close review of the statutes governing Series LLCs is therefore required to determine if such an entity is:

- a) legally authorized to hold and convey real property interests in the state of its formation; and
- b) if the transaction involves a series operating in a foreign state, the statutes of the foreign state specifically provide that a non-domestic Series LLC is legally capable of holding and conveying real property interests.

SERIES LLC'S

IN GENERAL (con't.)

To be properly created, unless statutorily authorized by other means, a master series LLC must be filed with the Secretary of State for the state in which the LLC has been formed. Simply registering a Series LLC does not mean the Series LLC is a separate entity or otherwise legally capable of holding a real property interest. A thorough analysis of the pertinent state statutes, for both the state of the LLC's formation and the state where the insured property is located, is required and must be provided to the Corporate Legal Department for review.

SERIES LLC'S

IN GENERAL (con't.)

For a Series LLC to hold an insurable interest in real property, the following minimum conditions must be met:

- 1) The state where Series LLC is purported to be organized (Domestic State) must authorize the creation and use of a Series LLC;
- 2) The Domestic State statutes must provide that a Series LLC is capable of holding title to real property;
- 3) The Series LLC must be registered in the Domestic State's Secretary of State office, unless the Domestic State's statutes specifically provide for its formation by other means;

SERIES LLC'S

IN GENERAL (con't.)

- 4) If the state where the property is located is not the state of formation, the foreign state's statutes must clearly authorize a non-domestic Series LLC to do business in that state; and

- 5) If the state where the property is located is not the state of formation, the foreign state's statutes must specifically allow a non-domestic Series LLC to hold title to real property.

SERIES LLC'S

IN GENERAL (con't.)

A Series LLC may be difficult to recognize by its name alone. LLCs are often formed with the same name and distinguished by a sequential numbering system and Series LLCs are typically numbered in the same way. Consequently, an LLC with a number or Roman numeral in its name should prompt further inquiry into the status of the entity as a Series.

SERIES LLC'S

IN ALABAMA

The Alabama Uniform LLC statute authorizes domestic Series LLC's if they are provided for in the Certificate of Formation of the master LLC, and the statute provides that domestic Series LLC's can hold title to real property in Alabama. However, there are more underwriting issues involved with insuring title to Alabama property held by a domestic Series LLC than just the threshold determination of whether or not the certificate of formation for the master LLC provides for Series LLC's.

A couple of issues that immediately come to mind are:

SERIES LLC'S

IN ALABAMA (con't.)

- 1) the need to review the written company agreement of the master LLC, the separate written company agreement for the Series LLC, and any other documents pertaining to the Series LLC for all terms, conditions, limitations, prohibitions, etc.... regarding the creation and operation of the Series LLC and its ability to hold title to real property; and
- 2) title to the real property to be insured must be conveyed into a properly created and identifiable domestic Series LLC by a recorded deed. The master LLC should be referenced somewhere in the body of the deed conveying title to the domestic Series LLC.

SERIES LLC'S

CODE OF ALABAMA

Section 10A-5A-1.04

- (a) A limited liability company is a separate legal entity. A limited liability company's status for tax purposes shall not affect its status as a separate legal entity formed under this chapter.
- (b) A limited liability company shall possess and may exercise all the powers and privileges granted and enumerated by Chapter 1 or by any other law or by its limited liability company agreement, together with any powers incidental thereto, including those powers and privileges necessary or convenient to the conduct, promotion, or attainment of the business, purposes, or activities and affairs of the limited liability company.

- Section 9 (b)(2) allows the Attorney General to bring an action on behalf of affected individuals but only for actual damages.
